

LEADERSHIP AND ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT S-381

RE-NUMBERED FROM S-301

March 11-15, 2002
Pacific Northwest Training Center
Redmond, Oregon

Lead Instructor: Rowdy Muir
Course Coordinator: Renee Beams (541) 504-7342
Nominations Due: November 1, 2001
Selections Posted on Web: December 3, 2001

TARGET GROUP

- Unit leader and section chief positions.

TRAINEE PREREQUISITES

- Qualified as any single resource boss, manager, support dispatcher, or equivalent first-level supervisory position.
- Forest Service Employees need to reference FSH 5109.17 for trainee prerequisite requirements.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

- Advanced Supervision is designed to develop mid-level supervisory skills by providing advanced training in communications, performance appraisal, objective setting, delegation, conflict resolution, civil rights, internal/external controls, integrity, time management, and technology management. The course will provide the supervisory skills that persons functioning at the unit leader and section chief levels will need, and is a sequel to S-281, Supervisory Concepts and Techniques. The revision of S-381 beginning in FY2001 will excise leadership concepts from the old S-301 course, and a companion curriculum in leadership skills will be developed.

OBJECTIVE

- Identify and describe the principles of management and supervision applicable to the performance of a unit leader or section chief in the incident command system (ICS).
